MARION STORY NABS A THIEF,

AND MRS. STORY AND HER HOUSE-KEEPER MAKE A MISTAKE.

The Women Had Aiready Identified Another Man as the Burgiar, and He Was Then in Juli on Their Say-So-Mr. Story Gives Wronged Person 8500.

PORT CHESTER, June 22 .- Marion Story, society man, artist and horse exhibitor, captured a burglar in his home here this morning, and through this fortuitous circumstance released a reputable young man from durance and from the odious suspicion of being a thief.

Only yesterday Mr. Story had had the innocent man arrested, and on the sworn identification of two women, Mrs Story and a housekeeper, the innocent man had been committed without bail, after having been locked up in the police station over night. Magistrate Crane, it will be reembered, has recently declared twice that women may not be trusted to make

After having retained a lawver to defend him from the unjust charge, the young man found himself this morning exonerated by the real and self-confessed robber, who had been taken at the point of

Mr. Story then apologized to the victim of excessive zeal, and made an appointment with the Chief of Police to go to-morrow and look for some of his stolen property. pawntickets for which the culprit surren-

Mr. Story has suffered from thieves for a couple of months. From time to time, apparently whenever it suited their convenience, the robbers would enter his house at night and take away whatever pleased their fancy. Sometimes it was things of considerable value, sometimes only knickknacks that were taken. The thieves entered the basement of the house and took away silverware, umbrellas with elaborate and costly handles, curios, and even heavy clocks.

Mr. Story's house, which replaces the old mansion of William Brooks, the former New York clothier, is outside the corporate limits of Port Chester, and occupies a hill much in the position of a castle site of old, commanding the valleys which surround it, and is hundreds of yards distant from the nearest neighbor. Mr. Story employed a representative of a famous New York detective agency, who remained in his house on watch for a period but so long as the detective was on duty the burglars failed to appear. Mr. Story then secured another watchman, but with the same result; so long as the watchman was kept, the peace of Blind Brook Farm. as Mr. Story's place is named, was not dis-

Mr. Story appealed to the local police, who, after listening to all the circumstantial recitals of what had gone on at the farm, expressed the opinion that somebody with an intimate knowledge of the doings of the family was the perpetrator of the robberies, or was at least a primary accomrobberies, or was at least a primary accomplice in them.

Last Saturday night Blind Brook Farm was visited again by the burglars, the last extra watchman having been dismissed. Late in the night members of the household were aroused by sounds for which all had been listening more or less for many weeks.

Mr. Story did not get a look at the man, whom Mrs. Story and the housekeeper, Sophie Clark, saw escaping through a basement window. The two women were sure that they saw two fleeing burglars, according that they saw two fleeing burglars, according to the story told to the police, but they

The thief made the mistake of losing his hat, in his hurry to elude the commotion occasioned by his overturning of some furufigure, which had awakened the household and the hat led to the arrest of a guiltless man, because of the initials that were in it.

The flittals were "W. H. S.", and when it was recalled by the housekeeper, who has been with Mr. Story for twenty years, that William Searles of Port Chester used to be employed at Blind Brook Farm, Mr. Story made a Sunday call on Justice Wakefield and swore out a warrant for Searka's arrest lt fell to the lot of Sergt. Bell, who used to be a business man here, to serve the warrant, and as he had known young Searles from boyhood and known him to be a reputable young man he did not hesitate to tell Mr. Story and everybody else whose business it was to know that he did not believe for one minute that Searles

"Why, I knew where he was myself up to ten minutes of I that night," said the sergeant, and I knew just where to find him when the warrant was issued." Searles has been working as a motor-nan in Port Chester lately.

and there Mrs. Story and Sophie Clark identified him positively as the man they had seen fleeing from Blind Brook Farm. They had not seen his face that night, but they recognized him from his size and build and his expressive back. As the identification was made by two persons the Justice refused even to admit the young Apparently in superb confidence that as

Searles had been arrested there was no further danger to be apprehended, the hat-loser of Sunday morning returned at a o'dlock this morning and reentered the

A o'clock this morning and reentered the basement through his favorite window. This time Mr. Story was on guard and heard the fellow moving in the dining room downstairs. Taking his revolver and accompanied by the butler, Mr. Story went to the dining room. The intruder heard them coming and when they reached the room he was hiding behind a screen. "Come out of there with your hands up or I'll shoot through," said Mr. Story, and William Stevens, a German, 28 years old, formerly Mr. Story's butler, stepped out into view. Mr. Story and his servants seized the man, who was not armed, and bound his hands behind him. Mr. Story ordered his carriage, and they drove with Stevens four miles to the Port Chester lock-up and delivered him there at 5 o'clock."

clock.
To Chief of Police Donovan, who was To Chief of Police Donovan, who was summoned early, Stevens confessed his guit. He had learned when employed as a butler at Blind Rock Farm, he said, that there was one basement window which could be opened from the outside by jamming it down a little and then raising it, and he had since entered the house by that means several times and stolen various things. The total value of his stealings, the police say, is about $2,000, the most valued articles being some minimizers.

ms

aple

eda

TOLO

the police say, is about $2,000, the most valued articles being some miniatures.

Stevens told the chief that he had lost his savings of about $1,500 on "the ponies" and that he had to get some money. The police believe that he had an accomplice in his burglaries.

He gave the Chief pawn tickets for many of the stolen articles and told him where he could get track of almost all of them. Mr. Story expressed his great regret to William M. Searles, whose initials are not "W. H. S.," for the error which had been made in accusing him, and, besides paying the expenses which Searles had been put to in employing counsel, gave him a check for $500.

Searles will not lose his place with the Searles will not lose his place with the railway company, whose superintendent said that they had perfect confidence in him, even when he was held on the charge made against him and that his friends had already determined to see him through.

ALFRED PEATS'S HOME BURNED. W. W. WATROUS LEFT A WIDOW $50,000 Mansion at Greenwich Destroyed -His Daughter Injured Seriously.

GREENWICH, Conn., June 22.-Fire started to-night at 8:30 o'clock in the northwest corner of the mansion of Alfred Peats on Electric Hill on the second floor. It destroyed the house, which was valued at $50,000.

Mrs. Peats s only child, Genevieve, aged 8. was burned so that it was said to-night. that she cannot live. Mrs. Peats was Willson Watrous, who died unexpectedly on burned in trying to save the child, but not Sunday at the Marlborough House, Atlantic seriously.

Mr. Peats, hopelessly insane, who was in charge of two attendants, was wrapped in residence of William J. Johnston, where his wife and child found a refuge from the high northeast wind and the drizzling rain.

Alta Crest, as the house was called, which Edwin H. Johnston of New York he found his brother's body in the care of converted into a palace at large cost.

He erected a log cabin cottage, gardener's cottage, windmill, greenhouses, barns and dynamo house, and the place became noted. It was on the highest point of land between New York and Boston and the summer before Andrew Carnegie's child was born, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie occupied it.

Mr. Peats bought it six years ago, shortly before he was adjudged insane by the New York courts. Six months ago his property was given into his wife's hands. He had planned to tear down the house and erect a stone mansion.

The origin of the fire was the upsetting of a kerosene oil lamp in the child's bedroom after the nurse had prepared her

ORDERED TO WHIP HER HUSBAND Wifebeater Howls for Mercy Under a Court's Sentence.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 22.-City Judge John Riley went on record to-day as a man of original ideas in the punishment of offenders. Anderson Cass, a civil war veteran. 76 years old, was brought before the Judge, charged with beating his wife. The woman told a story of how he squandered his pension in drinking and then beat and abused her because of her poor table. After hearng the woman's story, Judge Riley said:

"You are an ethletic-looking woman why don't you take him in hand? A good whipping might make him change his ways.

"I would whip him, Judge; but I always heard you were very severe on wifebeaters and I thought I had better let you punish

"You think you could whip him, then, if I would let you?" asked the Judge. "Yes, I can whip him all right, but I don't like to do it." said the woman.

"Well, you must whip him and I will furnish you with a whip." said the Judge. He sent Patrol Driver Wallace to the wagon shed for a whip and the couple were sent downstairs to the police station lobby. The woman took the whip and made a rush at her husband, who stood begging for mercy. She let him have a thrust about the legs first and he danced and howled for mercy. Then she lashed him about the body until his howls attracted a great crowd. She enjoyed the show she was making and did not want to quit at all, but the police stopp The husband promised to quit his evil Riley said to-night that he was a strong

Riley said to-night that he was a strong

Well, we have been," she said.

PHYSICIAN STRANGELY ILL. Dr. W. J. Greancile Has Recurrent Attacks of Unconsciousness and Cannot Talk.

Dr. William J. Greanelle, 32 years old, of Loring place and Hampden street, Uniersity Heights, who has had a large practice among the students and professors at New York University, is at the home of his father, 160 West Ninety-second street. suffering from an ailment that is puzzling his physicians.

Dr. Greanelle is the assistant surgeon of the Twenty-second Regiment and on the first night of the military tournament at Madison Square Garden he ate something night he had something to eat at a church social and complained again of feeling ill. The next morning his left leg was somewhat swollen.

Three days later Dr. Greanelle became unconscious and remained comatose for two weeks, with the exception of two days when he appeared to be conscious, but was unable to speak. Dr. Jacobi and other specialists were called, but were unable to hurricane that swept the Chilean coast on the exact nature of the young doctor's

Ten days ago Dr. Greanelle again lost consciousness and remained in this condition for six days, when he recovered consciousness, but was only able to make incoherent sounds. He was removed to the home of his father, Walling P. Greanelle. It was said there last night that Dr. Greanelle.

was in a very critical condition and had not recovered the power of speech. The opinion of the attending physicians is that the young physician has eaten some sort of poison that has attacked his brain.

11 KILLED IN SERIES OF WRECKS. Two Runaway Trains and a Collision in Three States. SPOKANE, Wash., June 22 .- A Great Northern train of sixty cars loaded with coal got beyond the control of the engineer o-day and tore through the city at a frightful speed, finally jumping the track at Davison street. Three persons were killed and nine injured. Three buildings were wrecked.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 22.—In a collision between two Missouri Pacific freight trains at Cole Junction, near this city, last night, four men were killed and one was dangerously injured. The dead are: Fireman Michael Duvall, Brakeman William Atkinson, and two men supposed to have been tramps. Engineer Michael have been tramps. Engineer Michael Finnegan of Jefferson City probably will die.

RAWLINS, Wyo., June 22.—Four men were killed in a freight wreck four miles east of this city early to-day. The dead are: Brakeman McGrath, Engineer Edward Baker, Fireman Charles Frezell, and a tramp. Eight freight cars broke loose in the Rawlins yards and ran down Greenville Hill four miles, where they crashed into a westbound freight train.

Latest Marine Intelligence. Arrived: Sa Tallahassee, Savannah, June 20

Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the icalp, and prevents the Hair from falling out.

"Get the Habit."-Adr.

KATHERINE BALLOU ANNOUNCES THAT HE MARRIED HER.

His Family Did Not Know It, and Acquaintances Were Apprised by an Advertisement-The Body Goes to the Family Home, the Widow to a Hotel.

Harry W. Watrous, the brother of Walter City, was informed vesterday that Walter had left a widow.

Walter Watrous, after his divorce and his wife's remarriage to his friend Richard blankets and carried to the neighboring H. Hunt, three years ago, was in the habit of making the family home, at 352 Lexington avenue, an occasional stopping place. On the day of Walter's death his brother was informed of it by telegrams from a Mrs. Spencer, whom he knew as the sister of one of his brother's friends, Mrs. Kathewas originally a large, square homestead rine Ballou. When he reached Atlantic City Mrs. Ballou and Mrs. Spencer. In their company he brought it to the Lexington avenue home. Mrs. Ballou and Mrs. Spencer Watrous and others read this advertise-

> WATROUS .- On June 21, 1903, after a short illness at Mariborough House, Atlantic City, N. J. Walter Willean Watrous beloved husband of Never having heard that Walter Watrous had remarried, several people called at the Lexington avenue house yesterday after-noon to enquire. They found Mr. Harry Watrous apparently as surprised as themwatrous apparently as surprised as themselves.

"If my brother Walter married I never heard of it," he said. "I don't know anything about any 'Katherine B. Watrous."

It turned out that the Katherine B. was Mrs. Katherine Ballou, who, a year ago, caused an inventor named Zimmerman to be temporarily detained as insane for bowing to her on Fifth avenue as she passed in her carriage, sending her love letters and calling to see her Harry Watrous had spent most of yesterday morning journeying up to New York with Mrs. Ballou. She had omitted to mention to him any nuptials. omitted to mention to him any nuptials.
"M.s. Katherine B. Watrous" was registered at the Holland House, but refused to be seen. Mrs. Spencer, however, came down to talk the matter over. "It's preposterous," she exclaimed, when informed that Mr. Harry Watrous said he informed that Mr. Harry watrous said ne didn't know of any marriage. "Of course there was a marriage. No. I won't tell you when it was or where it was. Mr. Harry Watrous wasn't at the ceremony, and I never teld him anything about it. But he travelled all the way up with us on the travelled to the said of the said the way to said the travelled all the way up with us on the said t train to-day and had lots of chance to find

The affair in which Mrs. Ballou caused the arrest of Frederick Zimmer-man occurred on April 28, 1902. She had a footman get down from her landau in Fifth avenue to point him out to a policeman. She asserted that he was paying persistent and obnoxious attentions to her, and had him committed to Bellevue. After the episode had gained quite a little newspaper notoriety she relented. Soon after she was advertised for a part in a Broadway show, but she ever appeared. Up to last summer she lived in a Lexing-Up to last summer she lived in a Lexington avenue apartment house a block from the Watrous dwelling. Then she moved to the Manhattan Hotel. The son of the janitrees of the apartment carried her mail over there for her and on asking for her one day was informed by her that her name had become Watrous. She left the hotel on Sept. 4 of last year and rented an apartment at 39 East Twenty-seventh street as Mrs. Watrous. Watrous called there often. there often.

Several months ago one of the woman's thing Mrs. Ballou said was:

"Have you heard that Mr. Watrous and I

She also told her visitor that Watrous was at that time with his mother up the State. Mrs. Spencer is authority for the statement that neither his mother nor any other of his family ever called on the Watrouses at the Twenty-seventh street house.

Mrs. Watrous and her sister got a lawyer from Howe & Hummel's office last night. They went out with him early in the evening and had not returned to the Holland House at a late hour.

The death certificate says that Mr. Watrous died of diabetes and acute inflams mation of the kidneys. His funeral will be at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Lexington avenue house. The notice to that which was sent out by his family last night does not describe him as a married that didn't agree with him. The next FEAR FOR THE MINNETONKA. Steamer From Here for San Francisco Is Now Overdue. SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 .- Twenty-seven days have elapsed since the steamer Minnetonka left Coronel, a coaling port of Chile, for this city, on her way from New York, hurricane that swept the Chilean coast on the night of June 1, and caused the loss of the large steamer Arequipa and the British ship Foyledale.

Coronel is about 270 miles south of Val paraiso, where the full force of the hurricane was felt, and it is probable that the Minnetonka was not far from that port when the storm came. She has at any rate had more than time enough to reach San Diego, where a stop was to be made, and no report of her arrival has been received. Twenty-seven days from Coronel to San Diego would be a record for slow trips.

The Minnetonka is a vessel of over 3,800 tons' net register and is laden with a full cargo of heavy freight from New York consigned to Williams, Dimond & Co. She left New York on April 1 and Norfolk five days later, reaching Coronel on May 23 and sailing thence three days later. paraiso, where the full force of the hurricane

FOUND ONE POLITE COP. Wrote Out the Route to Arverne and Never

Said "G'wan." Police Commissioner Greene received a letter one day last week, which read about like this: On Saturday, June 18, I had occasion to ask one of the officers at the Bridge entrance for directions that would enable me to get to for directions that would enable me to get to Arverne by trolley. He wrote the directions on a slip and passing it to me, said, quietry, "follow that." I did, and found it entirely correct. His politeness so astonished me that I forgot to take his number, but I want to thank you for having the right man in the right place.

The letter was signed by T. A. Wright a publisher of 150 Bleecker street. Gen. Greene sent the letter to the Bridge precinct station, where it was read from the desk. The Commissioner's note said:

I regret that I do not have this officer's number so that I might commend him in person. A little courtesy of this kind is much appreciated by the citizens and causes the police force to be respected. The polite policeman is Harry Smith, who stands at the telephone booth at the Bridge entrance.

Up Beautiful Hudson, Intercollegiate Boat races, Poughkeepsie. Friday, 26th. Sir. C. W. Chapin. See adv.—Ad-

OUR SQUADRON'S VISITS. Kalser and King Preparing to Greet Admiral Cotton.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, June 22 .- The American squadron under command of Rear Admiral Cotton is expected to arrive at Kiel on Tuesday evening. Emperor William will arrive at Kiel from Hamburg on Wednesday. Lieuttenant-Commander Potts, the Naval Attaché of the American Embassy here, has already joined the squadron at Nieborg, Denmark, and will accompany it to Kiel. Mr. Tower, the American Ambassador, will leave for Kiel to-morrow.

LONDON, June 22 .- All the arrangements have been completed for the reception at Portsmouth of the American squadron when it arrives there on July 7. As soon as the squadron arrives Admiral Sir Charles Hotham, Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth, and his staff will pay an official visit to the Kearsarge, the American flagship, and Rear Admiral Cotton and his officers will be invited to dine at Admiralty House. On the same evening Capt. Percy Scott and the officers of the gunnery school at Whale Island will entertain some of the American officers. On the following day Admiral Cotton and a number of his officers will leave for Lonthen went to the Holland House. In a don to be present at the State ball to which New York morning paper yesterday Harry | they have been invited by the King. It is probable that his Majesty will entertain the American and English officers at dinner on July 9. Admiral Cotton will dine at the American Embassy on July 10.

> M'KIM GETS KING'S MEDAL. High Praise for American Architects in the Presentation Speech.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, June 22.-There was a large gathering this evening at the Royal Institute of British Architects to witness the presentation to Charles F. McKim, the American architect, of the King's gold medal which is awarded annually to somebody distinguished as an architect or man of letters. Mr. Aston Webb, A. B. A., F. R. I. B. A., F. S. A., in making the presentation spoke of the marvellous work American architects are doing untrammelled by tradition, full of youth, energy, imagination and initiative. and supported by boundless resources. Ambassador Choate said Americans had developed such a passion for beautiful buildings that their country was a perfect paradise for architects. Mr McKim said that he accepted the medal as tendered to his countrymen.

NEW FILIPINO CAPITAL. Plan to Move the Seat of Government to Benguet.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN MANILA June 22.-Gov. Taft. who has been at Benguet for some time, returned to Manila to-day in excellent health. The Philippine Commission resumed its regular sessions. Plans are being discussed for an elaborate development of Benguet by the expenditure of half a million dollars on the Government buildings at the summer capital. Benguet will become the permanent capital, according to present arrangements when the railway line is completed.

SUICIDE IN HOFFMAN HOUSE. Dressell, a Shop Window Dresser, Kills Himself in the Tollet Boom. An e-naciated and rather poorly dressed man about 35 years old, shot himself in the head at 11 o'clock last night in the toilet room of the Hoffman House. Frank Mulcay, the cashierof the hotel, summoned acquaintances, who then knew her as Mrs. an ambulance. The man was dead when slips of paper pinned together. On one slip was written in pencil: "My name is H. B. Dressell." That was crossed out with a heavy pencil mark. The other slip bore this writing in ink:

No position, no money-you can't have friends friends 18 94th, don't take me there. I hate them.
215 East 18th. Take me to station.

215 East 18th. Take me to station.

His body was taken to the Tenderloin police station.

Late last night it was learned that the suicide was H. B. Droesell, a window-trimmer for department stores. He lived in the boarding house at 215 East Eighteenth street. Mrs. Winch, who keeps the house, and "He told me that his wife, his son, Adolph, and daughter were living at 18 West Ninety-fourth street. This morning I heard a pistol shot in the parlor and found he had shot a bullet into the wall. He said he had accidentally discharged the weapon while cleaning it."

M'COY DESPERADO KILLED. Ganz Pursued Into the Mountains by the member of the famous Kentucky gang of McCoy outlaws, who have figured so conspicuously in the Hatfield-McCoy feuds. of the past two decades, with a half dozen followers, attempted last night to paint the town of Keystone, W. Va., red. McCoy began by raising a disturbance with John Revnolds, an agent of an Ohio brewing e mpany. The agent's friends came to his rescue and the McCoy gang crossed the street when they began shooting. At this juncture the Keystone police ar-rived in a body and with the aid of citizens opened fire on the retreating mountaineers, who returned it as they ran up the mountain side. The mountaineers were hard pressed and made a dash for the valley, a quarter and made a dash for the valley, a quarter of a mile below, where a fight ensued.

Police of Keystone, W. Va. ROANOKE, Va., June 22.-Lloyd McCoy,

Johnson Mounts, of the McCoy gang, was killed outright, and another man, whose name could not be learned, was injured. The pursuing party escaped without injury.
The desperadors fied to the mountains in

NO NICARAGUA LEGATION

If Panama Canal Treaty Is Ratified, Says a Nicaraguan.

Information received from Nicaragua is that Senor Luis F. Coréa, Minister of Nicaragua to Washington, who went home recently, is not coming back. According o a Nicaraguan whose relations with the Government of President Zelaya are of a semi-official character, Nicaragua is too poor to keep a Minister here with nothing to do: but should the Panama Canal treaty fail of ratification at Bogota, the Nicaraguan Government will reopen its legation at Washington to agitate the Nicaragua route. Otherwise, the only representative will be a guardian for the archives left be-

WASHINGTON, June 22.-If Nicaragua intends to withdraw its legation from Washington, official information to tha Washington, official information to that effect has not been conveyed to the State of modern railway achievement—The Pennsylvania Limited, the Chicago Limited and the St. Louis Limited, running via the Pennsylvania Railroad to the West.—Adr. Along the Historic Hudson River run the tracks of the New York Central. You can enjoy the beauties of the American Rhine if you travel by the Central. Rate 2 cents per mile.—Ade. DELAWARE MOBBURNS A NEGRO on South Africa's Negroes.

Three Good Examples

GEORGE WHITE LYNCHED FOR MISS BISHOP'S MURDER.

Mob of 2,000 Storms the Workhouse at Wilmington, Del.-Four in the Mob Wounded by the Guards-Virginian Led the Lynchers-Police Powerless.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22.-The Coroner's jury this afternoon found a verdict that George White, a negro, arrested for assaulting and causing the death of Helen G. Bishop, the daughter of a clergyman, was guilty of the crime. This evening many men started in electric cars for the workhouse where White is confined and then a poses of twenty police officers was hurried to the scene. At 9 o'clock it was reported that 2,000 men, many having pistols, were near the workhouse.

At 10 o'clock there was intense excitement at the workhouse and the outer door of the building was broken in. Men began to chisel down the iron doors. Pistol shots broke the globe of the electric lamps, extinguishing the lights, and many shots were fired at the building.

The guards inside were firing back at the mob and two men in the crowd were injured and brought to the hospital in this city. Telephone connection with the workhouse was cut.

At 11 o'clock it was reported that the mob had taken possession of the warden's quarters in the workhouse and that the thirty police sent from this city were in the cell wing of the building. The Sheriff has been called upon and it is expected he will seek to form an additional posse to go to the scene. At 11:30 o'clock it was reported that the mob had only one more door to force in order to reach the cell corridor where White was held. There was a rumor to the effect that dynamite was being placed around the building, in which there are about two hundred prisoners. Excitement in this city was intense.

At 12:15 o'clock word reached this city that the mob had captured White and had started with him to the scene of his crime, one mile distant, where it was the purpose to hang him.

A crowd gathered in front of the city hall, and cheered and cheered when the intelligence came.

Another report is that the crowd intended to hurn the negro. Thousands of people are on the streets and there is increasing excitement.

An extra force of policemen was sent to the workhouse about 10:30 o'clock and every electric car running to the scene was crowded with men hestening to the spot. It is said that the leader of the party making the assault against the doors is a Virginian and that railroad ties were used as battering rams. About 300 men were in the building and they were in a position where they could have been shot down by the guards, who were loath to open fire.

Outside the crowd was clamoring and shouting encouragment to the men inside and the scene was one never before witstanding on the line of the cars in this city shouting "Lynch him!" The police on the ground outside were pushed aside by the mob and ignored. It was reported at midnight that four men had been wounded. Many in the mob were from rural districts near the scene of the murder, and among the party were fifty men on horseback and wearing women's clothes. A man who returned from the workhouse about 1 o'clock says that after the crowd gathered there was muc talk, yet nobody seemed disposed to take the initiative. Finally a man, said to be a Virginian, made a harangue and called upon somebody to follow him. He was answered by half a dozen half-grown boys and later by some men. They had secured railroad ties and soon were at the front door of the workhouse, which is the residence of the many shots. Then the crowd pushed into the building and made their assault upon the steel doors there. There were five of them, and one after another went down. There was a clash between the guards and the police inside, but the meb prevailed. In a short time the cell where White was confined was reached. White was hurried to the place where he had assaulted the girl and cut her throat which is one mile from the workhouse Then the negro is said to have confessed his guilt and prepared for death

This wooden door was soon broken in, notwithstanding that guards inside fired

He was tied to a stake and surrounded with wood, which was set on fire. He was then burned to death, while the crowd stood around to witness his agony. This is not fully verified at 1 o'clook this morning, although White's shoes were brought to the police station by some one who had come from the scene. The electric road to the workhouse is to run care all night to bring back the crowds. When the mob broke into the office of the Warden they set about destroying everything in sight, and the valuable records were wantonly torn and burned. There was a general rush to enter the building, and the guards and policemen inside were intimidated and did not fire a shot. They were utterly helpless to combat the terrible pressure put upon them. The damage to the building will amount to several thousand dollars. It is reported that some of the other prisoners escaped during the excitement. Spectators who returned declared that the great crowd acted like maniacs. Miss Bishop was assaulted on her way home from school, where she was taking her high school examinations. She lay unconscious for some time before she was discovered. Her father, in the pulpit yesterday, pleaded that the law should be allowed to take its course.

A charming day and a charming way if your

BOOKER WASHINGTON CAN'T GO. NO SHIP COMBINE CHANGES. Declines Lord Grey's Invitation to Report

Boston, June 22.-Booker T. Washington says that his place is at Tuskegee and that e has no intention of accepting the offer of Lord Grey to go to British South Africa to undertake a similar work. At his Weymouth summer home he said vesterday:

"One very practical reason why I cannot accept the offer is that Tuskegee needs about $100,000 a year which I have to raise. Lord Grey wanted me to examine the condition of the black people, and make a report as to what methods would increase their industrial and moral value. I considered the offer carefully, but found the task fraught with such responsibility that I have decided to reject it at this time. Some day, perhaps, I shall go, but it will be when my labors here are not so great as they now are. The blacks there represent every grade of intelligence and education, from savagery to the college graduate, but the majority of the work of advancement s being done along industrial lines."

$30,000 IN GOODS STOLEN. Three Men Confess That They Have Committed 105 Robberles.

Three men arrested by the police of the West Forty-seventh street station, last night, have admitted, according to the police, that within the last two months they have robbed 105 places and got $30,000 worth of goods Another man assisted them, they say.

At one house in West Fofty-ninth street, according to the police, they got $5,000 worth of stuff. They tried to get into Tom Jolly's gambling house, they say, but were Yesterday afternoon they went to the home of Mary Moyna at 273 West Fiftysecond street and stole a watch. There was another man with them, but he got away. The prisoners said they were Charle Gallagher of 201 West Thirty-second street Frederick Scott, address refused.

NO MORE COAL STRIKES. John Mitchell Says He Thinks the Last

Great Struggle Has Come. INDIANAPOLIS, June 22 .- Commenting or an interview with him printed in New York faithfully. He added: "I do not favor the incorporation either of trades unions or employer bodies, but I do advocate the organization of capital by industries and labor by trades. I feel the trade by our competitors. The Cunard from all I know that all of the great strikes will be terminated early in July and I feel that the last great coal strike has been called.

Four Polloemen Needed to Take Her From Lawyer Man's Home. Miss Celestine L. Man, the sister-in-law of William Man of 19 West Tenth street, who is a member of the law firm of Man & Man, was taken to Bellevue Hospital vesterday afternoon in a strait scket and put in the psychopathic ward to remain there until arrangements can be made for her removal to a sanitarium.

MISS CELESTINE MAN INSANE.

Mrs. William Man, with whom her sister Celestine had lived, died ten days ago.
Her death is said to have driven Miss Man into a hysterical grief, which finally made her so ill that on Saturday night a physician as called in.

Miss Man's condition became so seriou vesterday that a trained nurse was engaged. In the afternoon Miss Man became violent. At first it was thought that she could be s summoned

When an attempt to remove her in that way was made, however, it was soon seen that she would have to be taken in an ambulance. Dr. Sennott was thereupon called with an ambulance from St. Vincent's Hos-pital, and Policeman Farney went in to were summoned from the Mercer street station. Miss Man was then removed with little further trouble.

It was said last night that Miss Man would

SEA LION IN CHENANGO RIVER.

It Floats Into and Down the Susquehann Before It Could Be Captured. BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 22 .- Early his morning people crossing the Chenango River bridges in this city saw a sea lion floating down stream. Before an attempt could be made to capture it the animal had passed into the Susquehanna, down which it floated at a rate of about five miles an hour. Unsuccessful attempts were made different places to capture the lion.

last heard from it was still hurrying toward the Chesapeake.

The lion is believed to be one of a pair The lion is believed to be one of a pair which escaped into the Tioughnioga River at Cortland about a week ago. One of them was captured soon after its escape. A wire netting had been stretched across the Tioughnioga near Chenango Forks in hopes of stopping the lion on its downward course or effecting its capture. The lion had not passed the netting on Sunday; but the recent heavy rains caused the rivers to rise several feet, making it possible for it to swim over the obstruction last night.

TRIED TO CASH SPECIMEN DRAFT. Young Widow From Brooklyn Arrested on

Woman Money Broker's Complaint. Mrs. Esther McIntyre, a young widow, of 681 Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn, who appeared on the stage in "Dolly Varden" last season, was arrested yesterday afternoon after she tried to get Mrs. Henrietta Schwartz, a money broker at 8 East Forty-second street, to cash a #50 draft on the American Exchange in Europe. On the line where the payee's name should have been written was printed in large red letters "Specimen."

At the Tenderloin police station Mrs. McIntyre said that the draft had been sent years ago by her grandmother to Mrs. McIntyre's mother and that when the latter died not long ago the draft was found. Mrs. McIntyre also said she had had no idea that the draft was worthless. SENDING WIRELESS MESSAGES. Marcont's Nova Scotia Station in Communication With England. GLACE BAY, N. S., June 22.-William Vivvan, Marconi's Canadian manager in charge of Table Head station, announced this morning that he is sending messages of different lengths from Table Head to Poldhu. Cornwall, daily, but that the re-plies are still being received by cable, owing to the installation of new machinery in the England station not yet being com-

Mr. Vivyan says the apparatus at Table Head now works with ease and that the transmission of the messages is attended Table Head station is also in daily communication with Wellfleet station at Cape Cod. Mr. Marconi is expected in Cape In Cape

PRICE TWO CENTS.

TALK OF REORGANIZATION ROT, SAYS DIRECTOR PIRRIE.

Cunard Line Not Destrous of Starting & Rate Cutting War, but Wants Readjustment of Certain Conditions-Conference Likely to Be Called Soon.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. BELFAST, June 22 .- W. J. Pirrie, chairman of the Harland & Wolff shipbuilding establishment and a director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, stated in an interview to-day that there was not a word of truth in the report that the latter company was about to be reorganized. He declared that the rumor was spread from motives of envy and He admitted that several of the company's steamers would be temporarily taken off because there was not sufficient cargo for them, and he said that the shipping trade, like other trades, had to regulate its policy by the law of supply and demand. Everything in the combination was working satisfactorily. Possibly because the public had not seen the great and radical the company was formed the recent stories originated. BERLIN, June 22 .- Officials of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company declare that the shipping trust affair is unimportant for the German companies, but there was a drop in the prices of Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd changes which were spoken of immediately shares at the Bourse to-day LIVERPOOL, June 22. -It is authoritatively stated that the Cunard Steamship Company is determined to make a stronger bid for first-class passenger traffic. It desires greater freedom of action in this direction, as the sailing arrangements of the White Star Line greatly hamper it. Edward Idel of 319 East 121st street and It is not expected that the Cunard company will reduce rates except as a final measure.

DEMANDS OF CUNARD LINE.

Rate Cutting on Atlantic Passenger Business May Be Averted. In regard to the withdrawal of the Cunard line from the North Atlantic conference. on Saturday, President John Mitchell said | Vernon H. Brown, the Cunard agent here. to-day that it did not represent him said yesterday: "There are too many ships in the North Atlantic trade; the supply far exceeds the demand, and there can be no relief from the existing situation without the withdrawal of extra tonnage put into company demands a readjustment to correct irregularities which exist in the classification of some of its steamships in regard to passenger rates. We do not desire to provoke a fight or inaugurate a cut in rates. We simply want a reasonable share of the

It is the opinion of representatives of other lines in the conference that belong to the International Mercantile Marine Company that there will be no rate cutting. It is not unlikely that the differences between the Cunard and the other lines may be adjusted at a meeting that, it is said, soon may be called.

PROFESSIONALLY HUNGRY. The Beggar Who Has Fooled Many Breadway Folks Lands in Jall.

Alfred Mayo, who is the actor headwaiter in "The Earl of Pawtucket" at the Manbattan Theatre, had an adventure last night with the Broadway beggar who makes a living by telling how hungry he is. taken to a hospital in a carriage, and one He says he is Michael Gilberry, a real waiter. When Mayo left the theatre at the close of the performance it was raining and he wore his rain coat. Gilberry went up to him and said: "Say, boss, I'm hungry. Nothin' to est in three days. Stake me to the price of a Mayo took the man to a restaurant, bought him a dinner and then gave him 10 cents. Soon after they had parted Mayo took off his rain coat and hung it on his arm, off his rain coat and hung it on his arm, thus changing his appearance somewhat. As he stood at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway ten minutes later Gilberry touched his arm.

"Say, Bill," said Gilberry, "I've had nothin' to eat for three days."

Mayo nabbed him and handed him over to Policeman Hughes, who locked him up in the Tenderloin police station.

TITLED GOLD HUNTER LOST. Swept Overboard From a Schooner Bound for a Treasure Island. HALIFAX, N. S., June 22 .- Fifteen years ago C. H. McLeod of Pictou was wrecked in the Straits of Magellan. While there, McLeod says, he discovered an island rich in gold, but he was unable to obtain the wealth, owing to the hostility of the natives. Recently he succeeded in forming a stock company with a capital of $100,000 to fit company with a capital of $100,000 to fit out a vessel and go to the mysterious island of Patagonia to secure the gold.

The schooner Hattie L. M. sailed a month ago from Halifax. Among her adventurers were four titled Englishmen. News comes from Montevideo to-day that one of them. Sir Ashley Cooper, was lost overboard and drowned. He was at work on the deck when a boom struck him, knocked him over the rail and he was never seen again.

It was not expected when the Hattie L. It was not expected when the Hattie L. M. sailed from Halifax that she would be back within a year. The vessel was provisioned for a twelve-months' voyage.

ARTIST BOGERT ROBBED.

Negro Gets Into an Apartment House and Steals a Painting.

E. E. Cable, janitor of the Meissonier apartment house at 204 West Fifty-fifth street, yesterday afternoon caught a negro street, yesterday afternoon caught a negro who was walking off with two pictures belonging to George H. Bogert, the painter, who lives there. Cable grabbed one picture, a landscape scene valued at $2,000, but the negro got away with the other, which is valued at $500.

The negro had broken into a room in the basement where a number of pictures belonging to Mr. Bogert were stored. Mr. Bogert is at his country home at East Hampton, L. I.

The police arrested a hall boy and an

The police arrested a hall boy and an elevator boy in the house. The detectives think the boys were in league with the

ARCHBISHOP'S PALLIUM COMING Bishop Farrelly of Nashville to Start With

It From Rome in a Few Days. A private cablegram received in this city yesterday from a member of the American College in Rome announced that Bishop Farrelly of Nashville, Tenn., will start for this country in a few days with the pallium for Archbishop Farley. This means that Archbishop Farley will be consecrated in a few weeks. A meeting of the pastors of the dioceses to arrange for the ceremony will be held to-day.

It has been decided to have the consecra-